PATRICK HENRY HIGH SCHOOL

ASHLAND, VIRGINIA

VOLUME I

Lithographed by:
Taylor Publishing Company
Dallas, Texas

Students first enter Patrick Henry High School on September 10, 1959.

Foreword

The opening of the 1959-60 school term saw the consolidation of the four schools in western Hanover County - Beaverdam, Henry Clay, Montpelier, and Rockville. Therefore, the theme of this, the first volume of the Patrick Henry VOICE is Patrick Henry High School . . . transformed from blueprints to buildings.

Students walk around work still in progress after school starts.

High School

Dedication

Patrick Henry High School is a reality - to the people who had the vision and desire to fight long and hard for a dream - adequate, up-to-date education facilities . . .

to the Supervisors and the School Board members who were instrumental in the success of the plan . . .

to the people of Hanover who were progressive enough to realize the need for a consolidated school and to provide the necessary funds . . .

to the administration and faculty who have taken a group of buildings and changed them into a smoothly operating entity . . .

to the students of Western Hanover County who co-ordinated ideas and ideals into a feeling of oneness . . .

to the architect, to an inspired construction company, and to the workers themselves, who worked overtime to insure the finished product . . .

to all these who dreamed a dream and attained its realization, the Staff of the 1959-60 yearbook respectfully dedicates this, the first volume of The VOICE . . .

for Patrick Henry High School IS a reality.

Administration and Faculty

Administration

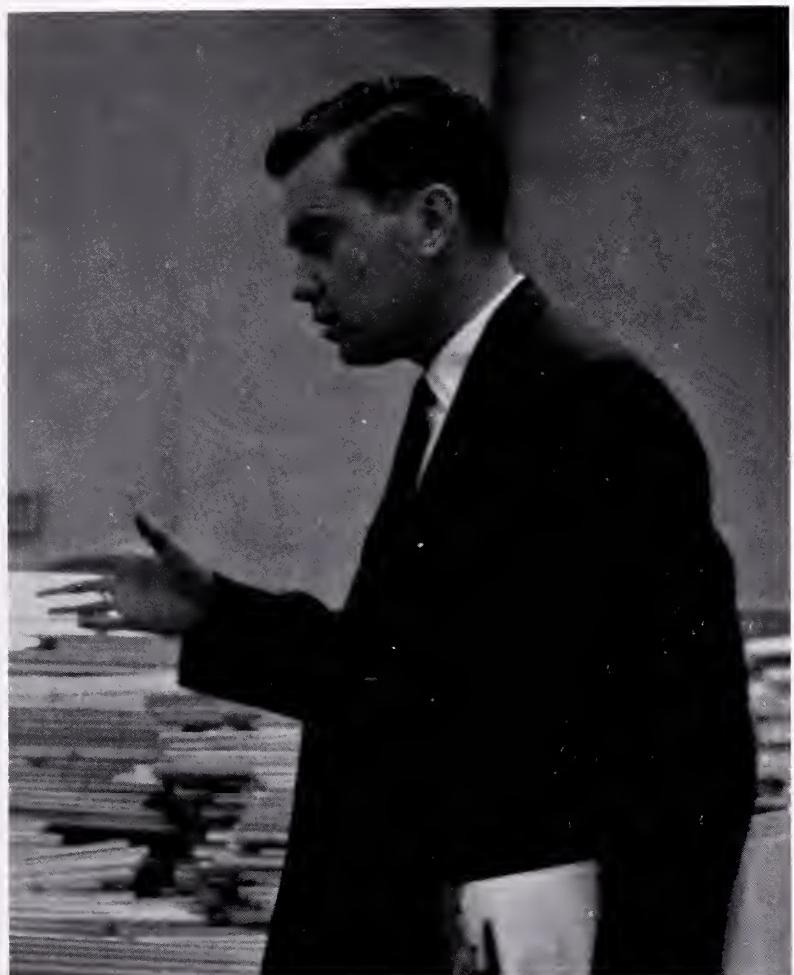

Mr. W. Nelson Taylor, Principal, speaks to the student body and faculty via the inter-com system.

Mr. R. Watson Durham, Assistant Principal, enters his office at the beginning of the school day.

Sports

Cheerleaders Add Spice

"V-I-C-T-O-R-Y! Yea, team, fight!" These were familiar words to sports fans who observed Patrick Henry's cheerleaders in action. At every game, in spite of freezing weather or drenching rain, they devoted their energies to leading supporters of the team.

The group participated in Thalhimer's Cheer Rally, Open House, and the March of Dimes Parade, where their cheers demonstrated their zip to the audiences and assemblies.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS: Anna Andruz, Judy Harris, Alice Radler, Donna Tyson, Nan Pleasants, Donna Bass, Gloria Pollard.

and Color to Games

They led pep rallies during school to prepare for organized cheering at the games. At the end of the season they attended a spaghetti supper with the football players.

"All right, now.
Once more!" shouted
Donna Tyson from one side of the building and "Okay, girls," echoed Ann Blunt from another. The yells sounded all around as the two squads practiced daily
under the sponsorship

First Patriot Team Splits Season

The first Patrick Henry football team, under the capable leadership of Coach Glenn Rudacille, had highly commendable 4-4 record. The Patriots, led by the great running of Craig Halbleib and George Gammon, showed an effective scoring punch; while the line, led by Ray Tate and Frank McLeod, produced an outstanding defense.

The Patriots, though hampered by injuries to key personnel, played good, hard-nosed football and showed plenty of pep and hustle. They showed fine sportsmanship and a keen desire to win in every game in which they participated.

George Gammon, fullback, received Honorable Mention in the District II, Group II, All-District Team.

J.V.'s Show a Love for the Game

J. V. Coach

DONALD P. ROBERTSON

Our first Junior Varsity football team compiled a season's record of two wins and three losses; however, this record does not indicate the great football played by these boys. Wilbur Mills was outstanding as a break-away threat at all times. Dick Jones and Ronnie Alfano shone on defense. The team had a fine season considering lack of experience, size, and depth. Coach Don Robertson is to be congratulated on the fine job he has done with the boys. It is evident that he places good sportsmanship first.

SEASON RECORD

Patriots in Tournament

The Patriots were eager and ready to battle against a very good Midlothian team in the first round of the Group 2, District 2, tournament.

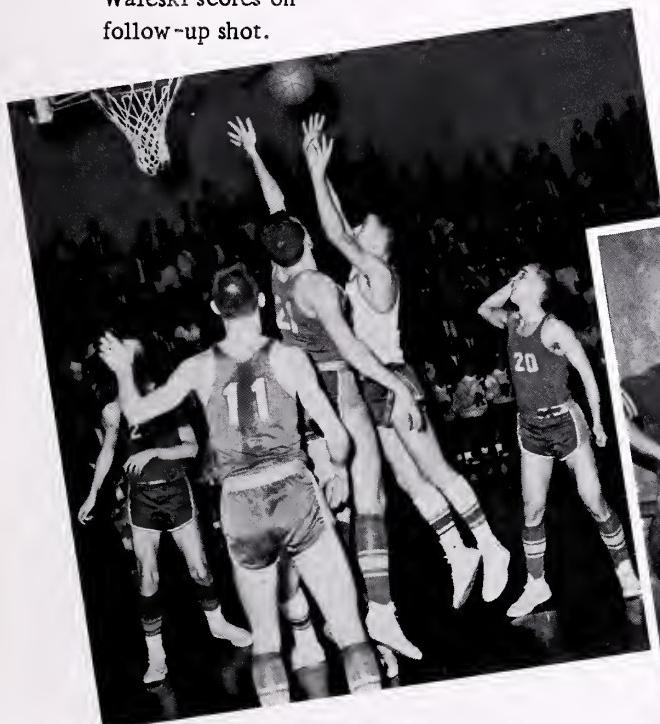

Although they were well backed by their home area followers, poor shooting hampered the Patriots' chances of winning. As a result of this they shot 27.9 per cent from the floor. Even though the shooting was not up to par the rebounding of B. A. Stanley helped the team and its score. In the second half, Craig Haibleib and Topper Davis sparked a Patriot rally; however, this rally fell short.

Stanley and Leadbetter fight in vain for rebound.

Toler blocks lay-up attempt by Jones.

Waleski scores on follow-up shot.

Coach points out mistakes during half-time.

STANDING: Mills, Davis, Tate, Waleski, Carneal, B. Stanley, Starke, Toler, Murphy, T. Stanley, Halbleib. KNEELING: McLeod, manager.

Patriots Have Winning Season

The Patriots had a regular season's mark of 9 wins and 7 losses. This year's team was well balanced with each man helping in the scoring, as well as the rebounding.

Topper Davis was the most consistent scorer, while B. A. Stanley was the big rebounder, aided by Ray Tate and Butch Waleski. Craig Halbleib did a capable job as the playmaker.

Coach Rudacille looks forward to a triumphant season with every member of the present squad back and additional strength from the '60 J. V. team.

Patriot Girls Stun Opponents

Edith Mills attempts the bounce pass during the Colonial Heights game.

The 6-4 record chalked up for the girls' basketball team was an unexpected but welcome season score. The team, composed of girls from the four different schools, started the season with no expectations of winning a majority of games played; but with hard work and excellent coaching from Mrs. Anne Wiltshire, their inexperience seemed to disappear. Shooting accuracy by the forwards Jeanne Grooms, Elizabeth Troxell, and Johnnie Ragland; and a defense by Jane Frame, Kathy Harley, Betsy Durham, and Edith Mills, stopped their losing streak at two and they proceeded to win six of their remaining eight games. Prospects for the next season seemed bright with the same team members returning.

J.V. Patriots Outclass Opposition

The J. V. cagers of Patrick Henry High School had a highly successful season, winning 11 games and losing only 5. This year's team was a well-balanced squad, which improved as the season progressed. The Patriots showed lots of fight and drive; each man on the squad played a lot of basketball and everyone showed fine sportsmanship.

Harold Starke looked very good on defense, while Vernon Burnette showed a lot of rebounding ability. Ron Grubbs filled in very nicely as the playmaker of the Patriot J. V.'s.

Pleasant scores against Lee-Davis as Grubbs and Harris look on.

S.C.A. Completes

Molding of four schools into one! Exciting Christmas dance! New ring design! All are achievements of the S. C. A.

The green and white guide badges added prestige to the council members' responsibilities on the first day of school and at Open House.

During the year the Student Council, composed of officers-elect of former schools and class presidents, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Blickenstaff and Mr. Mason, edited the constitution, perfected the point system, originated the Safety Club, attended Youth Forum, and arranged the State Convention display.

Band, directed by Mr. Tobias played for many S. C. A. programs.

Year of Worthwhile Achievements

Donna Tyson and the other candidates for 1960-61 S.C.A. offices presented campaign speeches before the student body.

F.H.A. Moves "Toward New

Amid the new department of kitchen, living-dining room, and work room, the Patrick Henry Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America officers planned for a successful year, working on the themes, Virginia Homemakers Make Virginia Homes Beautiful and Food for Family Fitness.

Edith Mills and Barbara Stanley dress dolls for Christmas Mother.

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Durham and Mrs. Thompson, the F. H. A. girls prepared Thanksgiving baskets, dressed Christmas dolls, and participated in the better breakfast poster contest, where Patrick Henry's Jane Starke placed first. To furnish beauty to the front of the school, the girls planted bulbs.

Charlotte Waldrop, Doris Gibson and Becky Harris plant bulbs outside gym.

"Horizons" Through Home Beautification

As an active member of the Hanover Federation, the Patrick Henry F. H. A. Chapter was host school for the Spring Rally held in the War Memorial Building. The theme for the occasion was "To develop a better understanding of our family members and to contribute to their well-being."

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Cross, the federation elected the following officers from Patrick Henry: Patricia Southworth, President; Carolyn Rogers, Secretary; and Joan Longest, Song Leader.

Barbara Stanley was elected as an officer candidate for the Virginia Association state convention.

Jane Starke wins county recognition for her poster.

Newly installed officers: B. Crawley, Treas.; B. Durham, Reporter; L. Campbell, 3rd Vice Pres.; P. Southworth, 2nd Vice Pres.; A. Corbin, Pres.; N. Davies, 1st Vice Pres.; C. Harris, Sec.; J. Thompson, Historian; V. Vaughan, Songleader.

F.F.A. Gain Valuable Experience

Patrick Henry F.F.A. Chapter, like all of our school organizations here at Patrick Henry, is completing the first year of its program.

Patrick Henry chapter is a consolidation of four chapters in western Hanover; namely: Beaverdam, Montpelier, Henry Clay, and boys from Rockville School, even though there was no chapter at Rockville. The combination of all of these school chapters has made the Patrick Henry chapter the seventh largest chapter in Virginia with a membership of 117 boys.

Some of the activities carried out by the chapter this year after getting organized were: continued improvement in forestry and tree planting, preparing and exhibiting crops at the Virginia State Fair, a cooperative and community service program in the community, and a program in wildlife conservation and farm safety.

The chapter has taken part in the Richmond Federation F.F.A. and has entered teams in the forestry, crops, shop, soil and livestock judging contests. Teams and delegates will attend the State Convention of F.F.A. at V.P.I. in June. A delegate was sent to the National F.F.A. Convention in Kansas City last fall. Members will attend the State F.F.A. Camp this summer.

Band Provides Entertainment and

Check for new band uniforms is presented by Mrs. Meade Jones, of the Music Boosters Club.

To produce fine music, enjoyable entertainment, and to compete for honors, the Patrick Henry Band worked all through the year. While developing their talents, the band members showed their enthusiasm by playing at football games, assemblies, Open House, and the Music Boosters program. The band also lent its talent to many P. T. A. concerts.

Under the direction of Mr. Tobias, the members studied the background of music, attended festivals and had one member chosen for the all-State Band.

Inspiration for Student Body

Judy King and Kathy Harley help with Vocal Festival.

The most eagerly awaited and happiest event for the individual band members was receiving the new uniforms. The purchase of these was made possible by the work of the entire music department and the Music Boosters Club. Some of the projects for raising money were: candy sales, a spaghetti supper given by the Music Boosters Club, and generous contributions from civic organizations served by the school.

Chorus Enjoys Harmonizing

"Does anyone sing second soprano?" was Mr. Tobias' hopeful plea to the chorus members at the first of the school year. Through the transfer of altos and first sopranos, 27 girls were secured--enough to perform at the Christmas program, Open House, the P. T. A. Variety Show, and at a Music Boosters' meeting.

A group was chosen to make the trip to All-State Chorus where Joan Longest and Sara Emerson were selected to sing in the chorus for the next year.

The greatest achievement was the receiving of a II rating in the Districts I and II Vocal Festival. Patrick Henry was host school to the festival this year.

Majorettes Add Vitality to the Band

Sponsored by FLOWERS VARIETY CENTER

Majorettes practice timing, marching, baton twirling, and strutting many afternoons after school.

"One, two, three, strut!" These were familiar words to the twelve majorettes during the practice sessions under Mr. Tobias' direction.

Dressed in their sparkling red, white and blue costumes, they did much to brighten the football games, parades and assembly programs. Their snappy routines, perfected by constant practice, received enthusiastic applause.

The 1959-60 activities ended with a performance at the Spring Concert.

F.T.A. Attracts Students to Teaching

Are you interested in teaching "readin', 'ritin', and 'rithmetic?" Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Schmiederer, the Patrick Henry Chapter of the Future Teachers of America served to acquaint interested students with this worthwhile career.

In the fall, four delegates made the trip to the State Convention in Roanoke where they attended discussion groups, business sessions, and social activities. From these activities they gleaned many new ideas which they enthusiastically brought back to the club members.

Projectionist Club Assists Teaching Staff

The cry, "Oh! The film is upside down!" has seldom been heard from the class groups viewing educational films being shown by Projectionist Club members. The boys, under Mr. McNeer's instruction, have perfected the use of audio-visual machines.

The club members, each week, posted on the office bulletin board a list of films available for class use. Each period projectionists were available to show films requested by the teachers.

Mrs. Luck enlivens her history classes with films shown by the club.

Litter bags, litter bags - have you ever seen so many bags! The county project was selling litter bags and the girls worked hard to make it successful. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Carson, County Home Demonstration Agent, the club made grace cards for the cafeteria tables and set up posters to observe National 4-H Club Week.

The girls worked hard at their individual projects, too. Some had as many as eleven projects in such fields as cooking, sewing, housekeeping and electrical fields. They were enthusiastic workers who pledged their best to better themselves, their community and their country.

Senior 4-H'ers Participate in Many Projects

Bios Club Members Win Science Fair Honors

At various times throughout the year you may have seen certain members of the student body carefully examining a tree, a bush, or any other object of scientific interest. There is a good chance that these "communers with nature" belong to the Patrick Henry Bios Club. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Blick, this is an honorary club, requiring an "A" average in biology and a "B" or better in all other subjects.

The outstanding project of the club was the Science Fair. Winners in this had a chance to go on to higher competition at the University of Richmond.

Service Keynotes Key Club

At the Kiwanis dance, Donna Tyson, who won the title of Charity Queen, dances with her escort, Craig Halbleib.

The Key Club was not organized until January of this year. It immediately started work and has established a record of good service. Its first project was that of choosing the Charity Princesses and assisting them in their drive for donations for Kiwanis charities. Next came the Music Festival in which several boys participated as guides. Their last function was giving a Key Club Record Hop to raise money for club expenses.

The recently chartered club is sponsored by the Ashland Kiwanis Club. Its advisors are Mr. Nelson Taylor and Mr. R. Watson Durham.

"Take it easy on these icy sidewalks" was heard many times during the winter weather. To prevent accidents of all kinds, and promote careful driving were the aims of the Safety Club organized for the first time in Hanover County.

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Luck and Mr. Mason, the club members stressed the importance of safe driving on the school grounds and highways.

Each club member is taught how to take, develop, and appraise pictures. At each meeting they discuss their pictures, bringing out the fine points of photography.

Services of Library Club Are Indispensable

"I just can't find that book I wanted, and I have to have it for my report!" Here is a library assistant, helpful and willing, to the rescue.

The Library Club, made up of volunteer workers, and sponsored by Mrs. Buckley, the librarian, gave assistance in everyday problems as well as in emergencies. Overdue books, books in need of repair, book checkouts, book returns, book and material selection - all require many hours of attention. Quietly and efficiently, the library assistants go about their assigned duties and the library is a haven of quiet and concentration.

Students crowd the library each period of the day to work on research projects and to enjoy the magazines and newspapers.

The Spark Goes to Press

Hearing the constant phrase, "Get the copy in," the staff was successful in publishing nine issues of "The Spark" during the 1959-60 session. Staff members worked under the extreme hardship of having no period other than the weekly activities period in which to meet and work; moreover, due to the fact that a large number of staff members must ride buses, after school meetings proved impractical. Staff members and many other students were cooperative in writing articles, typing and running errands; they all felt that the "baby" met with a measure of success.

FIRST ROW: Nancy Nichols, Lyn Letson, Ray Tate, Carolyn Keyes, Johnny Moore. SECOND ROW: Edith Mills, Judy Harris, Gloria Pleasants, Sandra Clay, Sandra Jones, and Andrew Duke.

These students aided the yearbook staff greatly by their sales of advertisements and subscriptions.

Magazine Drive

The question, "Can I sell you a magazine subscription?" was asked many times during the first magazine drive at Patrick Henry. Under the direction of Mr. Rudacille, the student body was divided into two competitive groups, the Beavers and Yellow Jackets, under student group and home-room captains. Each day during the campaign, students were awarded prizes and special privileges according to the number of subscriptions sold.

After two weeks of stiff competition, the school winners were announced. Sandy Smith, Pettus Frazier, and Cabell Luck were top salesmen. They helped to bring us to our goal and won valuable prizes for themselves. Mr. Rudacille made the awards.
